

Avebury Console Table

A friend and relation of the best-selling AVA, Avebury has two pentahedrons balanced one on top of the other. Its slender neck belies the strength of this table. The geometry is complex, but the result looks effortless and harmonious. Its statuesque silhouette is particularly well suited to a simple glass top, which keeps the look clean and lets the base really shine. If you opt for a steel base, we can treat it in your choice of standard or hand-painted specialist finish. It also looks beautiful in bronze, which we can patinate to your liking. Explore all of our finishes and materials to find the perfect combination for your interior.
