

Edge Bedside Table

The Edge bedside table is originally based on the dining table of the same name. The piece was inspired by Richard Serra's 'House of Cards' sculpture, which brings sheer swathes of metal into delicate balance, evoking a sense of lightness and simplicity. The same qualities ring throughout the entire Edge collection, each piece carrying a crisp and clean character. This contemporary bedside table has functionality built in, with a carefully crafted drawer to stow away sundries. We build all of our own cabinetry, using top-quality hardwood which allows us to work with total precision. Explore our range of finishes and materials to create your own bespoke bedside table.
