

Papillon Console made in Solid Bronze

This bronze edition of the Papillon console table may be made to sit at the edges of a room but it's certainly got the air of a centrepiece. The lightness of its form combined with the gravitas of its material creates an intriguing interplay. Bronze is a distinctive material which opens up a world of options when it comes to patination. Here we've created an 'Autumn' patina by hand to produce characterful variations across the console's surfaces. It pairs beautifully with an Eramosa marble top, tying into its eddies of deep, earthy tones. The frame's polished edges introduce an eye-catching glimmer which really brings each curve and corner to life.
