

Phoenix Rectangular Dining Table

The Phoenix is a modern rectangular dining table with two captivating bases, each composed of a trio of three-sided spears. They taper as they approach the floor, intertwining in the middle to create an elegant hourglass shape. The legs are individually made by hand in our Wiltshire workshop, allowing for meticulous attention to every detail. They're available in steel or bronze and can be finished in an array of options to make for a bespoke dining table. The final flourish is your choice of material for the tabletop. We've curated a beautiful selection of hardwoods specifically suited to designs like the Phoenix. You can explore all of our finishes and materials here.
