

Skye Stool with Upholstered Top

This iteration of the Skye stool combines crisp polished steel and plush upholstery to create a distinctive piece of contemporary furniture. Each stool is made to order, first bending sheets of steel to create the perfect form, then welding them together before rendering each join invisible. The upholstered seat is inlaid to create a clean effect, while adding a touch of warmth and tactility. The result toes the line between sculptural art and functional furniture, producing an eye-catching work of contemporary design.
